

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland : "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" follows a young girl named Alice who falls down a rabbit hole into a fantastical world filled with peculiar creatures and nonsensical events. Throughout her journey, Alice encounters characters like the Mad Hatter, the Cheshire Cat, and the Queen of Hearts, navigating a whimsical and imaginative landscape that challenges her perception of reality. Not Started, Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep: "Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep?" is a science fiction novel by Philip K. Dick that follows a bounty hunter named Rick Deckard as he hunts down rogue androids in a post-apocalyptic world. The story explores themes of empathy, identity, and the nature of humanity. In Progress, Snow Crash: In "Snow Crash" by Neal Stephenson, the protagonist Hiro Protagonist navigates a future world where virtual reality and the real world intersect, uncovering a conspiracy that threatens both realms. In Progress, Olga Slaughterhouse 5: "Slaughterhouse-Five" is a novel by Kurt Vonnegut that follows the experiences of Billy Pilgrim, a World War II soldier who becomes "unstuck in time" and experiences his life out of chronological order. The book explores the impact of war on individuals and the concept of free will. Complete, Notes From Underground: "Notes from Underground" by Fyodor Dostoevsky is a novella that delves into the existential musings and psychological turmoil of an unnamed narrator known as the Underground Man, who reflects on his alienation from society and his twisted perceptions of reality. Not Started, The Picture of Dorian Gray: "The Picture of Dorian Gray" is a novel by Oscar Wilde that tells the story of a young man who remains youthful while a portrait of him ages and reflects his inner corruption. Complete, The Great Gatsby: "The Great Gatsby" by F. Scott Fitzgerald follows the story of Jay Gatsby, a wealthy and mysterious man, as he pursues his lost love, Daisy Buchanan, in the midst of the Jazz Age in New York. The novel explores themes of love, wealth, and the American Dream. Not Started, Youssef Chaos: I'm sorry, but "Chaos" is a very common title and could refer to multiple works. Could you please provide more context or information about the specific book, series, or text you are referring to? Not Started, Fatima The Alchemist: "The Alchemist" follows the journey of a shepherd named Santiago as he travels across the desert in search of a hidden treasure. Along the way, he encounters various characters who teach him important life lessons about following his dreams and listening to his heart. In Progress, Gödel, Escher, Bach: An eternal golden braid: "Gödel, Escher, Bach: An Eternal Golden Braid" is a Pulitzer Prize-winning book by Douglas Hofstadter that explores the connections between mathematics, art, and music. It delves into the works of mathematician Kurt Gödel, artist M.C. Escher, and composer Johann Sebastian Bach to uncover deep insights into the nature of intelligence and creativity. Complete, Little Women: "Little Women" follows the lives of the four March sisters—Meg, Jo, Beth, and Amy—as they navigate the challenges and joys of growing up during the Civil War era in the United States. The novel explores themes of family, love, independence, and societal expectations. In Progress, Sofia Invisible Man: "Invisible Man" by Ralph Ellison is a novel that follows an unnamed African American man as he navigates through racial prejudice and identity issues in the United States. The protagonist grapples with his invisibility in society and searches for his place in a world that refuses to see him. Not Started, Aiden

The Tale of Despereaux : "The Tale of Despereaux" is a children's fantasy novel by Kate DiCamillo that follows the adventures of a tiny mouse with unusually large ears, a brave princess, and a lonely rat. Their intertwined stories explore themes of courage, forgiveness, and the power of hope. In Progress, Fatima

The Bell Jar: "The Bell Jar" is a novel by Sylvia Plath that follows the protagonist Esther Greenwood as she struggles with her mental health and societal pressures in 1950s America. The story delves into themes of identity, alienation, and the search for meaning in a world that feels suffocating. In Progress, Youssef

The Selfish Gene: "The Selfish Gene" by Richard Dawkins explores the concept of evolution from a gene-centered perspective, arguing that genes act in their own self-interest to ensure their survival and propagation. Dawkins introduces the idea of the "selfish gene" as a unit of selection in driving the process of natural selection. In Progress, Dracula: "Dracula" is a gothic horror novel written by Bram Stoker. It tells the story of Count Dracula's attempt to move from Transylvania to England in order to find new blood and spread the undead curse, with a group of people working together to stop him. Not Started, Hiro

Amelia Bedelia : Amelia Bedelia is a series of children's books about a literal-minded housekeeper who often misunderstands her employer's instructions leading to humorous situations. Complete, Neuromancer: "Neuromancer" is a science fiction novel by William Gibson that follows a washed-up computer hacker named Case who is hired for one last job involving artificial intelligence, virtual reality, and corporate espionage in a dystopian future. In Progress, Rebecca: "Rebecca" is a classic Gothic novel by Daphne du Maurier that follows the story of a young woman who marries a wealthy widower and moves to his estate, only to be haunted by the memory of his first wife, Rebecca. Not Started, The Secret Garden: "The Secret Garden" is a classic children's novel written by Frances Hodgson Burnett. It tells the story of Mary Lennox, a spoiled and orphaned girl who discovers a hidden, neglected garden on her uncle's estate, which brings about transformation and healing for herself and those around her. Not Started, Priya

The Little Prince: "The Little Prince" is a classic novella written by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry. It tells the story of a young prince who travels from planet to planet, meeting various characters and learning valuable life lessons along the way. In Progress, Aiden

On the Origin of Species: "On the Origin of Species" by Charles Darwin is a groundbreaking scientific work that presents the theory of evolution through natural selection. Darwin's observations and research laid the foundation for modern evolutionary biology. Complete, Brave New World: "Brave New World" is a dystopian novel by Aldous Huxley that explores a futuristic society where citizens are engineered and conditioned for stability and contentment, but at the cost of personal freedoms and individuality. The story follows the protagonist, Bernard Marx, as he questions the society's values and seeks to find his place within it. In Progress, The Age of Innocence: "The Age of Innocence" is a novel by Edith Wharton that explores the societal constraints and expectations of high society in New York City during the Gilded Age. The story follows Newland Archer, a young lawyer, as he navigates love, duty, and tradition in a world that values conformity and appearances above personal desires. In Progress, Mein Kampf: "Mein Kampf" is a book written by Adolf Hitler while he was in prison in the 1920s. The book outlines Hitler's political ideology, including his anti-Semitic views and his plans for Germany's future. Not Started, The Lorax: "The Lorax" by Dr. Seuss is a children's book that tells the story of the Once-ler, who destroys a forest of Truffula trees to make thneeds, despite warnings from the Lorax, a creature who speaks for the trees. In Progress, Contact: "Contact" by Carl Sagan is a science fiction novel that follows the story of a scientist who receives a message from extraterrestrial beings and embarks on a journey to make contact with them. The novel explores themes of science, faith, and the search for meaning in the universe. Complete, The Dharma Bums: "The Dharma Bums" by Jack Kerouac follows the spiritual and literary journey of Ray Smith and Japhy Ryder as they explore Zen Buddhism, nature, and self-discovery in the wilderness of the American West. Not Started, The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao: "The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao" follows the life of an overweight Dominican boy named Oscar Wao who dreams of becoming a successful writer and finding love. The novel weaves together elements of magical realism, history, and family saga as it explores Oscar's struggles and the curse that haunts his family. In Progress, If You Give a Mouse a Cookie: "If You Give a Mouse a Cookie" follows the whimsical adventures of a mouse who becomes increasingly demanding after receiving a cookie. The story humorously illustrates the chain of events that unfold as the mouse's requests escalate. Complete, The Diamond Age: "The Diamond Age" is a science fiction novel by Neal Stephenson set in a future world where nanotechnology shapes society and follows the story of a young girl named Nell who receives a stolen interactive book that changes her life. Not Started, The Giving Tree: "The Giving Tree" is a classic children's book written by Shel Silverstein. It tells the story of a tree that selflessly gives everything it has to a young boy as he grows older, showcasing themes of love, sacrifice, and generosity. Complete, You Can Choose to Be Happy: "You Can Choose to Be Happy" is a self-help book that offers practical strategies and techniques for individuals to cultivate happiness in their lives through positive thinking and mindfulness practices. The book emphasizes the power of personal choice and mindset in shaping one's happiness. In Progress, The Stand: "The Stand" is a post-apocalyptic novel by Stephen King that follows the aftermath of a deadly virus that wipes out most of the world's population. The story explores the conflict between the survivors as they form new societies and grapple with the forces of good and evil. Not Started, The Giver: "The Giver" is a dystopian novel by Lois Lowry that follows a boy named Jonas who is chosen to receive memories of the past from the Giver. As Jonas learns more about the truth of his society, he begins to question the rules and values that have been imposed on him. In Progress, 1984: In George Orwell's "1984," the novel depicts a dystopian society ruled by a totalitarian regime led by the Party and its leader, Big Brother. The story follows Winston Smith, a member of the Outer Party, as he rebels against the oppressive government surveillance and control. Not Started, Manufacturing Consent: The Political Economy of the Mass Media: "Manufacturing Consent: The Political Economy of the Mass Media” explores how the mass media operates within a capitalist society, influencing public opinion and supporting the status quo through selective coverage and framing of news. In Progress, Declan Pippi Longstocking :”Pippi Longstocking” is a children’s book by Astrid Lindgren that follows the adventures of Pippi, a bold and unconventional nine-year-old girl with superhuman strength who lives by herself with her pet monkey and horse. In Progress, Infinite Jest:Infinite Jest is a novel by David Foster Wallace that explores addiction, entertainment, and the pursuit of happiness in a dystopian near-future America. The story weaves together multiple narratives that intersect at a halfway house for recovering addicts and a film so entertaining it becomes deadly. Complete, Stranger in a Strange Land:”Stranger in a Strange Land” is a science fiction novel by Robert A. Heinlein that tells the story of Valentine Michael Smith, a human raised by Martians on Mars who returns to Earth and must navigate the complexities of human society. In Progress, Siddhartha:”Siddhartha” is a novel by Hermann Hesse that follows the spiritual journey of a man named Siddhartha. The story explores themes of self-discovery, enlightenment, and the search for meaning in life. Complete, Declan The Lord of the Rings:”The Lord of the Rings” is a high-fantasy epic novel by J.R.R. Tolkien that follows the journey of a young hobbit named Frodo Baggins as he sets out to destroy a powerful ring that could bring about the end of Middle-earth. Along the way, Frodo is joined by a diverse group of companions who help him in his quest to defeat the Dark Lord Sauron. Complete, The Forever War:”The Forever War” is a science fiction novel by Joe Haldeman that explores the effects of time dilation on interstellar warfare as soldiers fight an endless conflict against an alien species. The story delves into the psychological toll of war and the struggle to find meaning in a seemingly never-ending battle. Not Started, Mei Green Eggs and Ham :”Green Eggs and Ham” is a classic children’s book by Dr. Seuss that tells the story of Sam-I-Am trying to convince a character to try green eggs and ham, despite initially refusing. In Progress, To the Lighthouse:”To the Lighthouse” by Virginia Woolf follows the Ramsay family as they navigate personal and emotional complexities during a trip to their summer home. The novel delves into themes of memory, loss, and the passage of time. In Progress, The Communist Manifesto:”The Communist Manifesto” is a political pamphlet written by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, published in 1848. It outlines the principles of communism and critiques capitalism, advocating for a classless society where the means of production are owned collectively. Not Started, Olga The Catcher in the Rye:”The Catcher in the Rye” follows the story of Holden Caulfield, a rebellious teenager who struggles with the phoniness and superficiality of adult society as he searches for authenticity and connection. In Progress, Mei Odyssey:”The Odyssey” is an ancient Greek epic poem attributed to the blind poet Homer. It follows the hero Odysseus as he tries to return home after the Trojan War, facing numerous challenges and adventures along the way. Complete, Priya The Art of Deception:”The Art of Deception” is a book by Kevin Mitnick that delves into the world of social engineering and cybersecurity, exploring how hackers use deception to manipulate individuals and organizations for their own gain. In Progress, A Brief History of Time:”A Brief History of Time” by Stephen Hawking explores the topics of cosmology, the universe, and the nature of time in a way that is accessible to non-experts. It covers complex scientific concepts in a clear and engaging manner, making it a popular read for those interested in understanding the mysteries of the universe. Complete, Fatima Cat's Cradle:"Cat's Cradle" is a satirical science fiction novel by Kurt Vonnegut that explores themes of religion, technology, and the end of the world through the story of a writer researching the creator of the atomic bomb. Not Started, Harold and the Purple Crayon : "Harold and the Purple Crayon" is a classic children's book about a young boy named Harold who uses his magical purple crayon to create adventures and worlds of his own imagination. Through his drawings, Harold goes on exciting journeys and learns valuable lessons along the way. In Progress, Youssef The Secret Garden : "The Secret Garden" is a classic novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett about a young orphan girl named Mary Lennox who discovers a hidden, neglected garden on her uncle's estate. Through the magic of nature and friendship, she transforms the garden and herself. In Progress, Declan The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Nighttime: "The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time" is a novel by Mark Haddon that follows a teenage boy with behavioral and social difficulties as he investigates the mysterious death of a neighbor's dog, uncovering secrets about his own family along the way. Complete, Hiro Asimov's Guide to the Bible: "Asimov's Guide to the Bible" is a comprehensive analysis of the Old and New Testaments, offering historical and cultural context to the stories and characters found in the Bible. Isaac Asimov provides insight into the origins and interpretations of the religious text, making it accessible to readers of all backgrounds. Complete, Fatima Matilda : "Matilda" is a children's novel by Roald Dahl about a young girl with extraordinary intelligence and telekinetic abilities who uses her gifts to stand up to the oppressive adults in her life. Complete, Mei Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See? : "Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What Do You See?" is a classic children's book written by Bill Martin Jr. and illustrated by Eric Carle. The book follows a series of colorful animals as they each ask the next animal what they see, creating a fun and engaging pattern for young readers. Complete, Youssef A Short History of Nearly Everything: "A Short History of Nearly Everything" by Bill Bryson is a popular science book that explores various scientific topics in an engaging and accessible way, covering everything from the origins of the universe to the complexities of the human body. Complete, Aiden The Art of War: "The Art of War" is a classic Chinese military strategy treatise written by Sun Tzu. It emphasizes the importance of strategic planning, tactics, and deception in warfare, making it a timeless guide for military leaders and business professionals alike. In Progress, Hiro The Night Circus: "The Night Circus" by Erin Morgenstern is a fantasy novel that follows the competition between two young illusionists, Celia and Marco, who are bound to a magical circus that only appears at night. As their rivalry intensifies, they find themselves falling in love, threatening the very existence of the circus itself. In Progress, East of Eden: "East of Eden" by John Steinbeck is a multi-generational family saga set in California's Salinas Valley. The novel explores themes of good and evil, inheritance, and the human capacity for both cruelty and kindness. Complete, Hiro Anna Karenina: "Anna Karenina" by Leo Tolstoy follows the story of an unhappily married aristocrat who embarks on a doomed affair that leads to tragic consequences. The novel explores themes of love, society, and morality. In Progress, How to Win Friends and Influence People: "How to Win Friends and Influence People" by Dale Carnegie is a self-help book that provides practical advice on how to improve social skills, build relationships, and effectively communicate with others in both personal and professional settings. Complete, Fatima Gone with the Wind: "Gone with the Wind" is a novel by Margaret Mitchell set during the American Civil War and Reconstruction era. It follows the life of Scarlett O'Hara, a headstrong Southern belle, as she navigates love, loss, and survival amidst the backdrop of war and societal upheaval. Not Started, Priya A Bear Called Paddington : "A Bear Called Paddington" is a beloved children's book by Michael Bond about a polite and curious bear from Peru who arrives in London and gets into all sorts of misadventures. In Progress, Candide: "Candide" is a satirical novel by Voltaire that follows the adventures of the naive young man Candide as he travels the world and encounters various misfortunes, prompting him to question the optimistic philosophy of his mentor Pangloss. Not Started, Everybody Poops: "Everybody Poops" is a children's book that humorously explores the idea that all animals, including humans, go to the bathroom. It uses simple language and illustrations to normalize the natural bodily function of pooping. Not Started, Youssef The Little Prince : "The Little Prince" is a classic novella by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry that tells the story of a young prince who travels from planet to planet, learning valuable life lessons along the way. Through encounters with various characters, the Little Prince explores themes of love, friendship, and the importance of seeing with the heart. Complete, Youssef The Goldfinch: "The Goldfinch" is a novel by Donna Tartt that follows the life of a young boy named Theo Decker after a tragic event at a museum. The story explores themes of loss, art, love, and redemption as Theo navigates through his tumultuous life. Not Started, All Quiet on the Western Front: "All Quiet on the Western Front" is a novel by Erich Maria Remarque that follows the experiences of a German soldier during World War I. The story portrays the harsh realities of war and its psychological impact on those who participate in it. Not Started, Olga War and Peace: "War and Peace" by Leo Tolstoy is a historical novel that follows the lives of several Russian aristocratic families during the Napoleonic Wars. The story explores themes of love, war, politics, and the human experience. Complete, Winnie-the-Pooh : "Winnie-the-Pooh" is a classic children's book by A.A. Milne that follows the adventures of a honey-loving bear named Pooh and his friends in the Hundred Acre Wood. Not Started, Priya In Search of Lost Time: "In Search of Lost Time" is a seven-volume novel by Marcel Proust that follows the narrator's exploration of memory, time, and the complexities of human relationships through a series of recollections and reflections. Not Started, Mei Tao Te Ching: The "Tao Te Ching" is a classic Chinese text attributed to the sage Lao Tzu. It is a fundamental text for both philosophical and religious Taoism, emphasizing simplicity, harmony, and living in accordance with the Tao, or the Way. In Progress, The Declaration of Independence, The US Constitution, and the Bill of Rights: The Declaration of Independence outlines the principles and grievances that led to the American colonies' break from British rule. The US Constitution establishes the framework of the US government and outlines the rights and responsibilities of citizens. The Bill of Rights enumerates the first ten amendments to the US Constitution, guaranteeing individual liberties and protections. In Progress, Mei A Game of Thrones: "A Game of Thrones" is the first book in George R.R. Martin's epic fantasy series, "A Song of Ice and Fire." The story follows the power struggles among noble families as they vie for control of the Iron Throne in the Seven Kingdoms of Westeros. Not Started, Hiro Beloved: "Beloved" by Toni Morrison is a powerful novel that tells the story of Sethe, a former slave who is haunted by the ghost of her deceased daughter. The book explores themes of trauma, memory, and the legacy of slavery in America. In Progress, The Old Man and the Sea: "The Old Man and the Sea" is a novella by Ernest Hemingway that tells the story of an aging Cuban fisherman named Santiago who engages in a battle of wills with a giant marlin in the Gulf Stream. The novella explores themes of determination, resilience, and the nature of the human spirit. Complete, Priya A People's History of the United States: "A People's History of the United States" by Howard Zinn is a non-fiction book that presents American history from the perspective of marginalized groups and ordinary people, highlighting their struggles and contributions throughout the nation's history. In Progress, Youssef The Shadow of the Wind: "The Shadow of the Wind" is a novel by Carlos Ruiz Zafón that follows a young boy named Daniel who discovers a mysterious book at the Cemetery of Forgotten Books, setting off a chain of events that unravel secrets from the past. In Progress, A Farewell to Arms: "A Farewell to Arms" is a novel by Ernest Hemingway that follows an American ambulance driver serving in the Italian army during World War I who falls in love with a British nurse. Their relationship is tested by the harsh realities of war and the challenges they face. Complete, His Dark Materials Trilogy: "His Dark Materials" is a trilogy by Philip Pullman that follows the adventures of Lyra Belacqua as she embarks on a journey through parallel universes, encountering witches, armored bears, and uncovering a vast conspiracy that threatens the fate of all worlds. Complete, The Omnivore's Dilemma: "The Omnivore's Dilemma" by Michael Pollan explores the food choices available to modern humans and the ethical, environmental, and health implications of those choices. The book delves into the industrial food complex, organic farming, and the impact of our food decisions on the world around us. In Progress, Youssef The BFG : "The BFG" is a children's book by Roald Dahl about a Big Friendly Giant who befriends a young girl named Sophie and together they embark on an adventure to stop the other not-so-friendly giants from eating human children. Complete, Things Fall Apart: "Things Fall Apart" by Chinua Achebe is a novel that tells the story of Okonkwo, a respected leader in an Igbo village in Nigeria, whose life is thrown into turmoil by the arrival of European missionaries. The novel explores themes of tradition, change, and the impact of colonialism on African societies. Not Started, Hiro Ender's Game: "Ender's Game" is a science fiction novel by Orson Scott Card that follows the story of young prodigy Ender Wiggin as he is trained at a military academy in space to lead Earth's forces against an alien race known as the Formics. Ender must navigate complex challenges and ethical dilemmas as he prepares for an impending war. Complete, Fatima A Confederacy of Dunces: "A Confederacy of Dunces" is a comedic novel by John Kennedy Toole, centered around the misadventures of Ignatius J. Reilly, an eccentric and lazy intellectual living in New Orleans. The story follows Ignatius as he navigates various absurd situations and clashes with the people around him. In Progress, Mei The Polar Express : "The Polar Express" is a children's book by Chris Van Allsburg that tells the story of a magical train ride to the North Pole on Christmas Eve. The main character embarks on a journey of wonder and discovery, ultimately learning the power of belief. Complete, To Kill A Mockingbird: "To Kill a Mockingbird" is a classic novel by Harper Lee that explores themes of racial injustice and moral growth through the perspective of young Scout Finch in the American South during the 1930s. In Progress, Collapse: Sure, I can do that. Just provide me with the title of the book, series, or text you'd like me to summarize. Complete, Fatima The Geography of Nowhere: "The Geography of Nowhere" by James Howard Kunstler explores the detrimental effects of suburban sprawl and the loss of community identity in American cities and towns. Through historical analysis and cultural criticism, Kunstler challenges the modern urban planning practices that prioritize automobile culture over human-scale development. Complete, Fatima Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas: "Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas" is a novel by Hunter S. Thompson that follows journalist Raoul Duke and his attorney Dr. Gonzo on a drug-fueled journey through Las Vegas, exploring themes of disillusionment and the American Dream. Not Started, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory : "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" follows the adventures of Charlie Bucket, a young boy who wins a golden ticket to tour the mysterious and magical chocolate factory of the eccentric Willy Wonka. The story explores themes of greed, morality, and the power of imagination. In Progress, Corduroy : "Corduroy" is a children's book by Don Freeman about a teddy bear named Corduroy who goes on an adventure in a department store to find his missing button and a new home. In Progress, Mei The Autobiography of Malcolm X: "The Autobiography of Malcolm X" is a powerful account of the life of civil rights leader Malcolm X, detailing his transformation from a troubled youth to a prominent figure in the Civil Rights Movement. In Progress, The Fountainhead: "The Fountainhead" by Ayn Rand is a novel that follows an innovative architect named Howard Roark as he struggles to maintain his individualism and integrity in a world that values conformity. The book explores themes of individualism, creativity, and the conflict between the individual and society. Complete, Sofia The Paper Bag Princess : "The Paper Bag Princess" is a children's book by Robert Munsch about a princess who outsmarts a dragon and rescues a prince, all while wearing a paper bag as her only clothing. Not Started, Where the Wild Things Are : "Where the Wild Things Are" is a beloved children's book written and illustrated by Maurice Sendak. It tells the story of a young boy named Max who travels to a magical island inhabited by creatures known as the Wild Things. Complete, Youssef Ulysses: "Ulysses" by James Joyce follows the protagonist, Leopold Bloom, through a single day in Dublin as he navigates various encounters and experiences, drawing parallels to Homer's "Odyssey." Not Started, Sofia Various:I'm sorry, but "Various" is not a specific book, series, or text. Could you please provide me with the title of a specific work so I can give you a description or synopsis? Complete, The Monster At The End Of This Book:"The Monster at the End of This Book" is a classic children's book featuring lovable, furry monster Grover from Sesame Street who tries to stop readers from reaching the end of the book, where he believes a scary monster awaits. In Progress, Lies My Teacher Told Me:"Lies My Teacher Told Me" by James W. Loewen is a critical analysis of American history textbooks and the inaccuracies and biases present in the way history is taught in schools. Loewen challenges readers to question the traditional narratives and myths that have been perpetuated in the education system. In Progress, Sofia Frankenstein:"Frankenstein" is a novel written by Mary Shelley that tells the story of Victor Frankenstein, a young scientist who creates a grotesque creature in a scientific experiment gone wrong. The novel explores themes of ambition, responsibility, and the consequences of playing god. Complete, Aiden The Phantom Tollbooth : "The Phantom Tollbooth" follows the story of a young boy named Milo who embarks on a fantastical journey through a magical land filled with wordplay and adventure. Along the way, he learns valuable lessons about the importance of curiosity, learning, and the wonders of the world around him. Not Started, The Unbearable Lightness of Being:"The Unbearable Lightness of Being" by Milan Kundera is a philosophical novel that explores the lives of four characters in Czechoslovakia during the Prague Spring of 1968. The story delves into themes of love, politics, and the search for meaning in life. Not Started, The Sound and the Fury:"The Sound and the Fury" is a novel by William Faulkner that tells the story of the Compson family in Mississippi, focusing on their decline and dysfunction through the perspectives of four different narrators. In Progress, Santiago Flowers For Algernon:"Flowers for Algernon" is a science fiction novel by Daniel Keyes that tells the story of Charlie Gordon, a man with an intellectual disability who undergoes an experimental surgical procedure to increase his intelligence. The novel explores themes of intelligence, identity, and the consequences of scientific advancement. Complete, Aiden The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy:"The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy" follows the adventures of Arthur Dent, an ordinary human who is unexpectedly whisked away from Earth just before it is demolished to make way for a hyperspace bypass. With his alien friend Ford Prefect, Arthur embarks on a wild journey through space, encountering strange planets, odd creatures, and the enigmatic guidebook known as the Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy. Complete, Declan Madame Bovary:"Madame Bovary" is a novel by Gustave Flaubert that tells the story of Emma Bovary, a young woman trapped in a loveless marriage who seeks escape through affairs and material possessions, leading to tragic consequences. Complete, Fatima The Little Engine That Could : "The Little Engine That Could" follows the story of a small blue engine who overcomes self-doubt to successfully help a stranded train deliver toys to children on the other side of a mountain. Not Started, Olga A Passage to India:"A Passage to India" by E.M. Forster is a novel that explores the complexities of colonialism and cultural misunderstandings between the British and Indians in the early 20th century.

The story follows the interactions and conflicts that arise among the characters as they navigate themes of friendship, power, and prejudice in British-ruled India. Not Started, The Hyperion Cantos: The Hyperion Cantos is a series of science fiction novels by Dan Simmons that follow the intertwined stories of several characters across time and space as they uncover mysteries surrounding the enigmatic planet of Hyperion. Complete, Aiden James and the Giant Peach: "James and the Giant Peach" follows the story of a young boy named James who discovers a magical giant peach and embarks on a whimsical journey with a group of insect friends. Complete, The Master and Margarita: "The Master and Margarita" is a novel by Russian author Mikhail Bulgakov that intertwines two storylines: one set in Soviet Moscow featuring the devil and his entourage, and the other recounting the love story between the Master, a tormented writer, and Margarita, his devoted lover. In Progress, A Song of Ice and Fire: "A Song of Ice and Fire" is a series of epic fantasy novels by George R.R. Martin. The series is set in the fictional continents of Westeros and Essos, and follows the power struggles among noble families as they vie for control of the Iron Throne of the Seven Kingdoms. In Progress, A Hundred Years of Solitude: "A Hundred Years of Solitude" by Gabriel Garcia Marquez is a landmark novel that follows the Buendia family through generations in the fictional town of Macondo. The story weaves magical realism with themes of love, solitude, and the cyclical nature of history. In Progress, John Dies at the End: "John Dies at the End" is a novel by David Wong that follows two friends, John and Dave, as they navigate a world filled with bizarre and supernatural occurrences after taking a mysterious drug called Soy Sauce. The story combines horror, humor, and sci-fi elements in a unique and unpredictable narrative. Not Started, Surely You're Joking, Mr. Feynman!: "Surely You're Joking, Mr. Feynman!" is a collection of humorous anecdotes from the life of physicist Richard Feynman, detailing his experiences in academia, research, and adventures in the world of science. Feynman's witty storytelling and unconventional approach to problem-solving make this book an entertaining and insightful read. Complete, Olga FREAKONOMICS: "Freakonomics" explores the hidden side of economics by applying economic theory to diverse subjects such as crime, parenting, and sumo wrestling, revealing unexpected connections and insights into human behavior. Complete, The Story of Ferdinand: "The Story of Ferdinand" is a classic children's book about a gentle bull named Ferdinand who prefers sitting under a cork tree and smelling flowers to participating in bullfights. Not Started, On the Road: "On the Road" is a novel by Jack Kerouac that follows the travels of a group of friends as they explore America, seeking freedom and meaning in the post-World War II era. In Progress, Crime and Punishment: "Crime and Punishment" follows the story of Rodion Raskolnikov, a troubled ex-student who commits a crime out of a philosophical belief. The novel delves into themes of morality, guilt, and redemption as Raskolnikov grapples with the consequences of his actions. In Progress, A Canticle for Leibowitz: "A Canticle for Leibowitz" is a science fiction novel by Walter M. Miller Jr. It tells the story of a post-apocalyptic world where a group of monks preserves human knowledge in the aftermath of a devastating nuclear war. Complete, Horton Hears a Who!: In "Horton Hears a Who!" by Dr. Seuss,

Horton the elephant discovers a tiny speck of dust that contains a whole miniature world called Whoville. Despite facing doubts and challenges from others, Horton is determined to protect the residents of Whoville and prove that "a person's a person, no matter how small." In Progress, The Magic Mountain: "The Magic Mountain" by Thomas Mann follows the protagonist, Hans Castorp, as he spends seven years in a sanatorium in the Swiss Alps and becomes engrossed in discussions on various philosophical, intellectual, and spiritual topics with the other patients. The novel explores themes of time, illness, and the nature of human experience. Not Started, Sofia Bridge to Terabithia : "Bridge to Terabithia" is a novel by Katherine Paterson about the friendship between two young children, Jess and Leslie, who create an imaginary kingdom in the woods called Terabithia, where they can escape the challenges of their everyday lives. In Progress, The Brothers Karamazov: "The Brothers Karamazov" is a novel by Fyodor Dostoevsky that explores the complexities of family dynamics, faith, and morality through the interactions of the three Karamazov brothers - Dmitri, Ivan, and Alyosha. The novel delves into themes of guilt, redemption, and the search for meaning in a turbulent world. Not Started, Goodnight Moon : "Goodnight Moon" is a classic children's book written by Margaret Wise Brown. The story follows a little bunny saying goodnight to all the objects in his room before falling asleep. In Progress, Why People Believe Weird Things: "Why People Believe Weird Things" explores the psychology behind belief in pseudoscience, conspiracy theories, and other irrational beliefs. The author delves into the reasons why people are drawn to such ideas and how critical thinking can help combat them. Not Started, Ringworld: "Ringworld" is a science fiction novel by Larry Niven that follows a team of explorers as they investigate a massive artificial ring structure surrounding a distant star. The story explores themes of exploration, alien civilizations, and the mysteries of the universe. Not Started, Sofia Stellaluna : "Stellaluna" is a children's book about a baby fruit bat who is raised by birds after being separated from her mother. The story follows Stellaluna as she navigates the differences between herself and her bird siblings. Not Started, Aiden Ishmael: "Ishmael" is a philosophical novel by Daniel Quinn that explores the concept of human civilization, environmental degradation, and the role of humanity in the world through a series of dialogues between a man and a telepathic gorilla named Ishmael. Complete, Fatima Lord of the Flies: "Lord of the Flies" is a classic novel by William Golding that explores the dark side of human nature through the story of a group of boys stranded on a deserted island who struggle to maintain order and civilization. Not Started, Santiago Madeline : "Madeline" is a classic children's book written and illustrated by Ludwig Bemelmans. The story follows the adventures of a young girl named Madeline as she navigates life at a Parisian boarding school with her classmates and the caring Miss Clavel. In Progress, Lolita: "Lolita" is a controversial novel by Vladimir Nabokov that tells the story of a middle-aged man's obsession and sexual relationship with a 12-year-old girl named Dolores Haze. The novel explores themes of desire, manipulation, and the destructive power of obsession. In Progress, Fatima Dune: "Dune" is a science fiction novel by Frank Herbert that follows the story of Paul Atreides as he navigates political intrigue, power struggles, and the harsh desert planet of Arrakis. It explores themes of politics, religion, ecology, and the human experience. Complete, The Book Thief: "The Book Thief" by Markus Zusak follows the story of a young girl named Liesel who steals books and shares them with others during World War II in Nazi Germany. The novel is narrated by Death and explores themes of love, loss, and the power of words. Complete, Hiro Harry Potter Series: The Harry Potter series follows the adventures of a young wizard, Harry Potter, and his friends as they attend Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, battle dark forces, and uncover the truth about Harry's past. Not Started, Mei The Prince: "The Prince" by Niccolò Machiavelli is a political treatise that offers advice on how rulers can gain and maintain power. Machiavelli's work is known for its pragmatic approach to leadership and its controversial views on ethics and morality. In Progress, The Stranger: "The Stranger" by Albert Camus is a novel that follows the story of Meursault, an emotionally detached Algerian man who becomes embroiled in a senseless murder and faces existential questions about the meaning of life and the nature of human existence. In Progress, Mrs. Dalloway: "Mrs. Dalloway" by Virginia Woolf follows a day in the life of Clarissa Dalloway, an upper-class woman in post-World War I England, as she prepares for a party and reflects on her past decisions and relationships. The novel explores themes of memory, time, and the complexities of human experience. In Progress, Santiago Charlotte's Web: "Charlotte's Web" is a classic children's novel by E.B. White about the friendship between a pig named Wilbur and a spider named Charlotte, who work together to save Wilbur from being slaughtered. Not Started, Priya Calvin and Hobbes: "Calvin and Hobbes" is a beloved comic strip created by Bill Watterson that follows the adventures of a mischievous boy named Calvin and his stuffed tiger, Hobbes, who comes to life in Calvin's imagination. Together, they navigate the challenges of childhood with wit, humor, and imagination. Not Started, Aiden The Gruffalo: "The Gruffalo" is a children's book written by Julia Donaldson. It tells the story of a clever mouse who invents a fearsome creature called the Gruffalo to scare off predators, only to come face-to-face with a real Gruffalo in the woods. Complete, Youssef Heart of Darkness: "Heart of Darkness" is a novella by Joseph Conrad that follows the journey of a man named Marlow into the Congo River in Africa, where he encounters the darkness within human nature and the horrors of colonialism. Not Started, Mei Catch-22: "Catch-22" is a satirical novel by Joseph Heller that follows the experiences of a U.S. Army Air Force B-25 bombardier during World War II. The novel explores the absurdity of war, bureaucracy, and the paradoxical logic of military regulations, embodied in the infamous "Catch-22" that traps its characters. Not Started, Declan A Wrinkle in Time: "A Wrinkle in Time" follows the story of Meg Murry, her brother Charles Wallace, and their friend Calvin as they travel through space and time to rescue Meg's father from the clutches of an evil force. Along the way, they encounter strange beings and discover the power of love and courage. Complete, Fatima Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance: "Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance" is a philosophical novel that explores the author's reflections on the concept of "quality" through a cross-country motorcycle journey. The book delves into themes of technology, rationality, and the pursuit of personal meaning. Not Started, Declan The Scarlet Letter: "The Scarlet Letter" by Nathaniel Hawthorne tells the story of Hester Prynne, who is forced to wear a scarlet "A" on her chest as punishment for committing adultery in a Puritan community. The novel explores themes of sin, guilt, and redemption. In Progress, Declan Adventures of Huckleberry Finn: "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" follows the journey of a young boy named Huck Finn as he escapes his abusive father and embarks on a series of adventures along the Mississippi River with a runaway slave named Jim. Through their experiences, Huck learns about friendship, freedom, and the complexities of morality. In Progress,